

Live System Status

There is an external page showing the state of monitored systems. An error shown there is immediately noticed by IRC-IT support people without having to be reported. Look also for the comments shown there to get informed about what is going on.

Live System Status