- Main content presentation
- Stored in Spaces
- Written in Wiki notation ("Textile") or Rich Text Editor (RTE)
- Have a title, unique per space, which is used for linking
- Have a hierarchy:
 - Pages can have sub-pages ("children")
 - Sort of, like, files and folders at the same time
 - Difference to other Wikis!
 - See in tree view of space
 - Position of current page can be seen and navigated in "breadcrumb" line, top-left
